Sleeping up to eight, with two ensuite double rooms, two twin rooms and a further two shower rooms, this house offers really good accommodation for the discerning guest and is perfect for walks along the magnificent coastal path and wonderful scenery to be found here. Crooklets Beach is just a short stroll away and this beach is great for bathing and surfing, being the home to Bude Surf Life Saving Club - the first Surf Life Saving Club in Britain.

Bude town, which offers a choice of excellent restaurants and small shops (no High Street retailers here) is a very short walk away and with the golf course on your doorstep, where you can receive a special membership rate for your stay, there is plenty for everyone to enjoy. Tennis, bowls, horseriding, bike hire are all available and Bude is just off the Atlantic Highway which leads to many other parts of the County.

Upper Deck is a great house to holiday in and will ensure you have a good holiday in very comfortable surroundings - and should you not wish to venture too far there is a superb games room for all the family.
